GRAINS CLOSE LOWER
ON MODERATE SELLING.

WHEAT RALLIES FROM LOW POINT.

Corn Shows Some Early Strength, But Final Quotations Are Easy.

Wheat values closed on the downturn in Saturday's session, but not before enough strength had been manifested to wipe out a considerable portion of the early losses. Fear of manipulation sent some of the shorts to cover, but trading sentiment was generally bearish so far as it was based on legitimate news. Receipts were large, values were indifferent and there was very little outside buying demand.

Corn opened well, but later was under moderate selling pressure. Though receipts were comparatively small, there was not enough outside interest to justify an advance.
